The parties agree that all aspects of the arbitration shall be kept strictly confidential. Unless otherwise required by law or regulatory authority, neither of us may disclose to any third party the existence of the arbitration, any materials submitted or exchanged in the arbitration, any transcripts, witness statements, expert reports, submissions, correspondence, or the arbitral award. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a party may disclose such information: (a) to its legal advisers, auditors, insurers, or other professional advisers, provided that such persons are bound by confidentiality obligations; (b) to the extent necessary to pursue or defend a legal right, or to enforce or challenge an arbitral award; (c) to any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction; (d) with the prior written consent of the parties. The arbitral tribunal shall have the power to make orders concerning the confidentiality of the proceedings and to take measures to protect confidential information. The arbitrators shall award the prevailing party reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, including the costs of the proceeding, and the prevailing party shall also be entitled to recover its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs should it need to pursue further relief in court to enforce an arbitral award entered in its favor.
